

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Based on requested bandwidths received from all edge nodes and destination edge nodes, the total reservation of the bandwidths requested by respective edge nodes for each link is calculated, and the total value is subtracted from the maximum admissible bandwidth of the link to obtain the residual bandwidth, and it is decided whether a new requested bandwidth is less than the residual band of which link of the path to the destination edge node.

10

15

20

25